Where were you when the world stopped turning? Those words were written by Alan Jackson as he tried to wrap his head around the events of 9-11. On the 17th anniversary of that fateful day, please stop and take a moment to reflect on how this country came together in the aftermath, and how we can get back together again. Regardless of your politics, let's find a way, before it's too late.

For our first Get it or Forget it of the week, we have some new artists to check out, as well as one of the best alt-rock bands from Los Angeles with their long-awaited new EP. Let's get going.

Artist Name: NEVERWONDER

Album Name: NEVERWONDER

Label: Self-released

Genre: Rock/Pop/Funk

Track Listing: 1. Give it All; 2. Moving On

Publicist: Doug Deutsch Publicity Services

Review: We have known brothers Andres and Vincent Ramos since before they left Exploiting Eve and founded NEVERWONDER. The band has been through a lot of changes looking for that special something, which they seem to have found with their new additions of Jay Wise on guitar and classically trained Swiss vocalist Fabienne Grisel on lead vocals. Grisel reminds us of another powerful female vocalist, VK Lynne of The Spider Accomplice, and we expect that she will lead NEVERWONDER to the promised land with her amazing vocal abilities, and the incredibly relatable lyrics and stunning musical track. Both tracks are about love, and what we all must decide about it – to “Give it All” or be “Moving On.” This EP shows us just a taste of what’s to come from this new version of NEVERWONDER, and we can’t wait to see what’s next.

Recommendation: NEVERWONDER never fails to deliver, and the new EP is no exception. Definitely jump on this bandwagon and Get it today!
