If you're in the Los Angeles area you'll want to check out the rock n' rollers

Neverwonder. This blogger normally talks about Blues and/or Blues-Rock artists. I think these guys fill that bill rather nicely. I was very impressed with the tracks I heard and let me be clear there are several incarnations of this band's personnel and their related music. The

On the origins of the band's name:
NEVERWONDER

"In life we have all been in bands in the past... we have had friends, done a lot of stuff in our life and you always always always look forward....you never ever want to look back!!! so at the end of the day with all the bands that we have been, or relationships, jobs...whatever it is for you... You never look back, you can never wonder about the past... you can, and must always look to the future, whatever it is.. look forward, so at the end of the day that's what NEVERWONDER is all about is looking to the future never look back because you can't change it never wonder about it, learn from it yes.. just look forward... Be great! So that's it NEVERWONDER!!!"

- Vincent Ramos

Ramos brothers (Vincent& Andres) have been the constant in these various personnel groupings. Vincent plays bass and Andres on drums. Today they have Jay Wise on guitar, and on vocals they have the fabulous Fabienne Grisel. These guys are a hard rock machine, producing some of the best sounds you will hear anywhere. They are a fun bunch and feed off each other as they churn out the jams. Funky, soulful, and always diverse in their approach to what they do. I personally, do not live in the L.A. area so unless these guys take it on the road and head east, I will be at a disadvantage when it comes to seeing their live sets. That's okay, because I have listened to their EP and it tells me that the future is very bright and when the dust settles, these zany artists are going to produce some great rock and roll. That's what excites me about these guys and the lady. This group of musicians have so much potential, as I said the future is... whatever they want it to be. I know, I can't wait to see what the next project sounds like. My bold prediction is, it's going to be GREAT!

Been a lover of Blues music since picking up on it from the British bands I adored. Cream, Led Zeppelin, Pink Floyd, Eric Burden and so many others.
